

Kanapu Exchange

< Internship Assistance

If you have landed yourself an internship outside the region you live in, Kanapu can help you get there. As exciting as it can be to receive an internship opportunity, we understand that getting to the internship location can add financial pressure and stress.

How this helps you

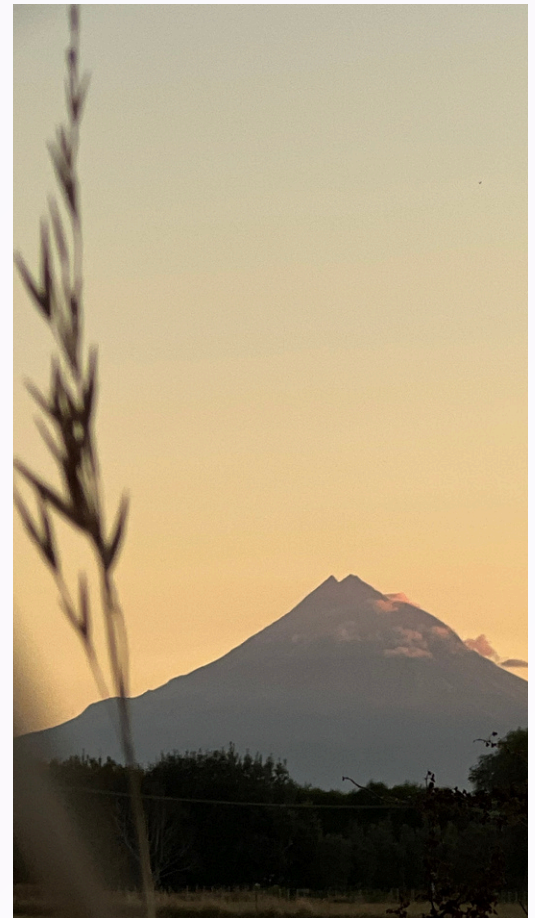

This support is designed to remove this barrier for those who need it so opportunities and experiences within science, innovation, and technology are accessible so energy can be spent on showing up, doing great mahi, and continual learning.

Who we are looking for

Those who have secured a research, science, innovation or technology-related internship in another region and need support to cover the cost of getting there.

How to apply

Express your interest by completing the Internship Assistance form on the Kanapu Exchange webpage. Opportunities are subject to availability.
